ASR: A better explanation

Formula Driverless Italy teams can refer to following FSG rules for ASR qualification form:

A 4.9.1 Every participating team must appoint at least one ASR for the competition. This person is responsible for all autonomous operations of the vehicle during the competition which includes any work on the autonomous system as well as racing and testing.

A 4.9.2 For driverless vehicles with an electric drivetrain the ASR must fulfill A 4.8 and therefore replaces the ESO. The team may not register additional ESOs

For these, teams are required to submit at least an ASR qualification document, in addition to ESO qualification documents, which is optional.

In lieu of ASR qualification document, teams may submit declaration to consider persons included in ESO qualification documents also appointed for the role of ASR.

The amount of persons appointed either as ASR or as ESO must not exceed four.

We have recognized a lack of clarity in our rules, so the new deadline for first submission of ASR qualification document is February 22nd
